

Complete online surveys and testing products.

Make sure you use reliable sources to access the surveys.

'Save the Student' has a list of reputable links

Show how responsible you are by becoming a babysitter for friends and families children

Surfing the net: Qmee is an online company that pays you for using popular search engines. Rewarding you small amounts which you can keep or donate to charity!

Simple ways to make extra money in your spare time

Become a dog walker in your local community

Sell your old clothes through sites like eBay or Vinted

Sign up to tutoring schemes at school, college or uni to share your knowledge

Become an 'extra' on TV! Sign up to a reputable casting agent for TV work - but find out how much commission they will take and do not pay anything up front

Sell your old course books: selling second hand books that you no longer need for your studies will generate extra cash for you and help another student too! Ask at your college or uni for more info

Sell your old devices: phones, tablets or laptops that you no longer use can be sold to be recycled or donated